Easy to follow Protocols

ANF TREATMENTS ARE DESIGNED BASED ON THE

PHASES OF TISSUE HEALING & INJURY SEVERITY

Each healing phase—inflammatory, proliferative (repair), and remodeling—requires distinct care. An ANF Treatment plan aligns with these phases, promoting optimal healing while reducing re-injury and chronic dysfunction risks.

The injury's severity (Grade I to III) guides ANF Device selection within each protocol. Adapting to natural healing phases and injury severity allows ANF Treatment to support effective recovery, balancing therapeutic goals to safely restore tissue strength, flexibility, and function.

Neurological Functions

The complexity and functions of the nervous system allow the body to self-heal with the use of ANF Therapy®.

Biochemistry & Resources

The role of cells, molecules, hormones, and vitamins, ... and their interactions which are necessary to facilitate the fusions and frequencies required to repair the dysfunctions.

Neuro Frequency Medicine

Normalize inflammation and neurological dysfunction with the most effective MedTech Device using revolutionary and advanced novel technology with neuro frequencies that allows the body to self-repair without side effects or drugs.

Clinical Training & Implementation

Learn Neurological Examination techniques to gain outstanding palpatory and practical skills in the musculoskeletal, nervous, lymphatic, digestive, and endocrine systems to find the root causes of any pain, injury, and/or pathology and understand human anatomy as a unit.
